HANDICRAFT

Some original handicraft forms of Lampung which now still can be found are traditional weaving, plaiting and brass work once, the wealth created by the pepper crops enabled the Lampung group to costume themselves in "ikat" cloth known all over the archipelago for their extravagance. For instance the "Tampan" weaving is made by the floating techniques with blue and brown designs. While the "Tapis" is covered by layer of designs intermoven with gold thread, complicated embroidery, even bits of mirror. Sarong Tapis is made by women for ritual occasion, display, oncient simple, and complex design of human, land and waver animals. It can be found in the north the north and west regions of the Province. The brass works and rattan or bamboos plaiting are still produced in Lampung. The brass work "Siger" is a traditional home industry while plaiting bamboos, leather and rattan works at Gading District on the northwest of Bandar Lampung. The gold and silver sigers also Tampan now are only passed down in certain noble families as the hairlooms. In fact, there are various types of "Tapis" such as "Tumpal", "Jung Saraf", "Raja Tunggal", etc. The others weaving are "Kikat" for cap, curtain, and shawl.

ART AND TRADITION

Lampung native people like other Indonesians are still strongly upholding their traditions which inherited from the ancient time. The specific and original traditions are up to now occasionally upheld, i.e., when there is a wedding ceremony to be held, and on the occasion of the appointment of a high functionary in "adat" tradition. at wedding ceremony the bride and bridegroom put the "siger" on their heads completed with ornaments, wear sarong "Tapis" which is famous for its glamorous native and contrast color designs. Particular sorts of dances will usually accompany the traditional ceremonies of native Lampung. "Tarian Agung" or Holly Dance is performed when high dignitaries are welcomed and at other important traditional events. "Melinting Dance", a dance which is performed at costumes ceremonies. It is usually found in Lampung Melinting area which located on the eastern part of Lampung Province. "Cangget Bakha" dance a dance performed when the moon is full, carried out by girls and young married men, while cleaning the "custom-hall".
